Field of the Invention The present invention relates to an image pickup apparatus and a control method thereof, and more particularly to an image pickup apparatus and a control method thereof capable of enhancing the read accuracy of a magnetic sensor for position detection. 2. Description of the Related Art Conventionally, there has been an image pickup apparatus equipped with a position detecting function of the position of a photographing lens, as disclosed in Jpn. Pat. Appln. KOKAI Publication No. 6-122719. The image pickup apparatus disclosed in Jpn. Pat. Appln. KOKAI Publication No. 6-122719 is equipped with a magnetic sensor of which output is linear to the change in the position of a photographing lens. Furthermore, the image pickup apparatus is disposed in a motor driving apparatus for moving the photographing lens in a fixed direction with a motor for driving the photographing lens. In this image pickup apparatus, at the time of stop of the photographing lens, the motor is stopped while holding the photographing lens and the motor driving apparatus by the photographing lens at a fixed position. When the photographing lens is stopped as described above, the magnetic sensor is placed in the photographing state at a predetermined position. Then, for example, in the case where a white board is placed near the photographing lens, a signal having a level corresponding to the white board is output from the magnetic sensor. When the white board is moved, the signal corresponding to the white board is output from the magnetic sensor. That is, the magnetic sensor is disposed at the predetermined position, and when the white board moves, the output of the magnetic sensor changes correspondingly to the change in the position of the white board. In the case where the magnetic sensor disposed in this manner outputs the signal, it is judged that the white board is not placed in the predetermined position. Then, the photographing lens is driven in a direction in which the white board is no longer present, and a photographing operation is executed. In this way, by detecting the position of the white board based on the output of the magnetic sensor, it is possible to control the stopping of the photographing lens. However, the magnetic sensor used in the image pickup apparatus is largely affected by the temperature around the sensor, and the magnetic property

At the end of the day, being a good person is about acting with integrity, doing the right thing for the right reason. And the right thing is very hard to do. Case in point, there are those who would sacrifice their own safety for someone who seems to be in trouble. But this is when we have to understand that real charity is something much more than that. Charity is not about being a doormat for another person's habit. That is the last thing that you would want. Charity is about inviting them to see the real person and not the person of you.
